ABSTRACT

Motivation is very important. Nowadays, with the development of technology, motivation might be affected by the use of it. The use of technology such as online tool in online learning may motivate the students to learn. Therefore, this study aimed to investigate the students' motivation in online learning. It involved 12 students from different batches of Language Education Program at Universitas Kristen Satya Wacana to become the participant of this research. In gaining deeper information toward the factors' influencing the students' motivation, the researcher interviewed the participants who showed the factors that influence students' online learning motivation. Based on Selvi's (2010) study, this study found there were a number of factors that could influence students' motivation. The factors can be categorized into (1) learning-teaching process, (2) roles of instruction, (3) students' participation and attention, (3) online learning environment/technical structure, and (5) time management.

Key words: Students' motivation, online leaning, learning motivation
